

2030 SDGs Card Game

Conducting hands-on workshop

On December 14th, Ms. Urakami Nana officially registered facilitator came to our school. Then we learned and experienced SDGs card games. .

Impression of students

- The world today is specialized in the economy, I thought that environmental and social aspects were not given much priority. I want to tell many people that it is very difficult to improve the overall balance.
- Everyone only cared about satisfying their own needs in first half of the game. I felt that it was important to be considerate of other countries and to look at the world around us.
- It's important not to think of it as someone else's problem, but to think of it as your own.
- It is important for each of us to take action. I think the key to achieving the SDGs is for everyone on the planet to work together, not just one person.
